

Tiina Kiik is an accordionist and teacher residing in Toronto. She is equally at home in classical, folk and improvised music. She holds an ARCT (Performance) in Accordion from the Royal Conservatory of Music, and an B.Sc (Honours) from the University of Toronto. She has worked with the Arcana Ensemble, Hemispheres, David Mott, Lori Freedman, and has toured both Canada and internationally with the Polka Dogs and the Double Wind Cello Trio. Since 1995, she has taught accordion at the University Settlement Music and Arts School, where in addition to accordion, she also currently teaches piano, chamber music, and preschool music. She has also worked extensively in Toronto area nursing homes and seniors centres providing music programs and sing-alongs since 1989. She is a regular contributor of CD reviews at WholeNote magazine.